Practice Management Solution

Allows hospital physicians (e.g., ER) to view the community health record

Why Noteworthy

- Noteworthy is a turn-key Health Information Exchange (HIE), but much more...
- Noteworthy's Connected Care Network (CCN) facilitates care throughout the ambulatory setting
- Noteworthy has a core competency of interfacing and integration
- Noteworthy's CCN has a self-sustaining business model
- Provides a migration path for physicians to participate at various levels while not compromising their workflow
- Facilitates communication among all providers (referrals, consults, orders, results, communication)—more so than RHIOs in operation today
- Enables the sharing of detailed clinical data

Why Noteworthy

- Provides a Community Health Record (CHR)
- Drives more data into the “community health record”
- Sophisticated authorization/permissions facility that is self-managed by the providers
- Affords wellness reporting and alerting at the physician, clinic and community levels
- Highest levels of community participation in the nation, achieved organically: 85+%
- Provides the physician all the tools they need to optimize the performance of their practice
- Single vendor yet open model
- Affordable
